BACKGROUND

Ensuring food safety has become a paramount concern for consumers globally, highlighted by recent outbreaks of food poisoning in countries like India and other nations. This issue poses a significant public health challenge, affecting both developed and developing nations.

Food processing Industry cannot develop unless this issue is tackled with the highest priority. Two pivotal areas requiring immediate attention include:

- Enhancing consumer confidence by ensuring the safety and quality of processed food.
- To leverage India's capacity to penetrate world markets which depends on its ability to meet increasingly stringent food safety standards imposed in developed countries.
- To promote widespread awareness and adoption of food safety practices.

All India Food Processors' Association (AIFPA), and other stakeholders across the food supply chain in India. These efforts aim to elevate food safety and quality standards within the food processing sector, encompassing street vendors and eateries as well.

AIFPA'S ROLE IN FOOD SAFETY

The All India Food Processors' Association (AIFPA) engages with MSME (Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises) for Food Safety and Quality capacity building and works closely with Ministry of MSME to create policies for entrepreneurship development in India.

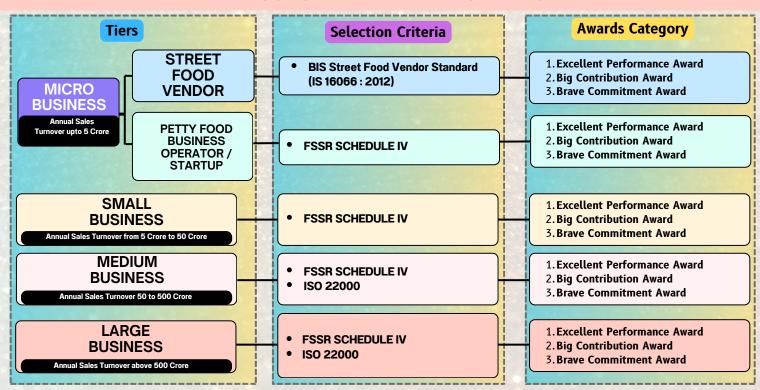

AIFPA has been working as a nodal body of food processors in regard to the development of safety & standards for various types of processed foods, holding discussions with stakeholders and suggest modifications required before the standards are finalized and notified by FSSAI.

AIFPA is a member of the Food Authority Committee of FSSAI and Member of Food and Agriculture Division Council of BIS representing the broader interests of the Food Processing Industry.

AIFPA FOOD SAFETY AWARD MATURITY MODEL

The organization who demonstrates additional initiatives like Environmental Sustainability, Nutrition and Technology upgradation for Food Safety and Quality, will also be assessed and may score additional points.

This comprehensive AIFPA maturity model comprises of basic food safety requirement to International Food Safety benchmark standards which intends to improve basic to Global Food Safety competitiveness.
